DETAILS:

I. A-1 INDUSTRIAL UNIFORM COMPANYA. Operations

CG T-1 advised on November 8, 1963, that he had learned that creditors are closing in on A-1 Industrial Uniform Company, and GEORGE BRAVOS is worried about the creditors. CG T-1 advised that the BRAVOS brothers are operating A-1 Industrial Uniform Company in the same manner that they operated another laundry in Florida, and that soon they intend to sell A-1 Industrial Uniform Company.

CG T-2 advised on November 13, and 14, 1963, that DAVID YARAS spends much of his time in Miami, Florida, but he continues to be active as a partner of [redacted] and shares in the proceeds from gambling, particularly among Jewish enterprizes on the north side of Chicago. According to CG T-2, YARAS comes to Chicago frequently because he has an interest in the A-1 Industrial Uniform Company, and he has one of his sons managing this company while the other son operates as a salesman for a foreign car distributor.

According to an article which appeared in the "Chicago Daily News", Red Dart Edition, on February 7, 1964, captioned, "...And Here Are Hood-Linked Firms", one of the business firms in Chicago which has been penetrated by the Syndicate is the A-1 Industrial Uniform Company, 77 West Washington Street which was incorporated on August 9, 1962, to rent linens and uniforms. According to the article, one of the directors and the secretary-treasurer of the company is DAVE YARAS, age 50, once indicted for murder of race wire king JAMES RAGEN. The president of the firm is the west side bookie boss, GEORGE BRAVOS, and [redacted] intelligence unit policemen have seen a number of other Syndicate members at the firm's other address, 1217 North Oakley. The article continues by mentioning other firms which have been penetrated by the Syndicate and furnishes the names of the officers of some of them. Included are:

L&M Disposal Company, 221 North LaSalle, a scavenger firm having two Syndicate members as salesmen, namely GEORGE BRAVOS and [REDACTED]

Roth-Adams Fuel Company, 1509 West Cortland, one of whose salesmen is NICK BRAVOS, age 50, a $1,000 a month salesman. When asked what BRAVOS does, [REDACTED] Firm President, said, "None of your business". BRAVOS served seven years in prison for bank robbery and is a west side bookmaker for the Syndicate. Both he and his brother GEORGE, also a bookmaker, used Roth-Adams Company cars according to the Chicago Police Department.

B. NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS

The following article appeared in the "Chicago Daily News", Red Streak Edition, dated November 5, 1963:

"Hood Firm Offers Cut-Rate Garbage Pickup"

"By JACK WILLNER

"A new hoodlum scavenger firm whose star salesman is crime syndicate bookmaker GEORGE (The Greek) BRAVOS, 48, has begun signing up customers on the Near North Side.

"Bravos is offering new customers rates from 25 to 50 per cent below those of competitors, according to the Police intelligence unit.

"The new concern, L & M Disposal Co., has offices at 221 N. La Salle.

CG 92-1297

"The office lease was signed by WILLIAM MC GUIRE, 40, of 1419 W. Garfield Blvd., a former Chicago policeman, and BERNARD LIEBLING, 54, a former downtown Chicago restaurant operator, police said.

"Other scavenger operators have told police they fear the new firm may try to take over the bulk of the scavenger business here through use of muscle.

"Police said that so far they have had no reports BRAVOS has used threats or terror tactics in his sales work.

"The intelligence unit said L & M is apparently an outgrowth of the merger of West Suburban Scavenger Service and Consolidated Scavenger Service Co.

"West Suburban in 1960 engaged in a bitter fight with the Chicago and Suburban Refuse Disposal Assn.; which charged the firm was using hoodlums to steal customers away.

"Police said some Near North Side businessmen reported that they had been solicited by ISADORE (IZZY) SCARAMUZZO on behalf of L & M, rather than BRAVOS. In 1961, SCARAMUZZO was a salesman for Consolidated, police said.

"L & M now uses pickup trucks formerly operated by Consolidated and parks them in a former Consolidated garage at 4548 S. McDowell, police said.

"BRAVOS has a brother, NICK BRAVOS, who is a syndicate bookmaker for the Loop and West Side.

"MC GUIRE was identified in U.S. Senate rackets committee testimony in 1959 as a partner of hoodlum CHARLES (CHUCK) ENGLISH in jukebox racketeering. MC GUIRE left the police force in 1951.

"LIEBLING, of 1302 Central, Wilmette, was involved in a Traffic Court hassle last March, when he was accused of trying to bribe a court clerk and of carrying away 20 traffic tickets without permission."

CG 92-1297

On November 6, 1963, a follow up article appeared in the "Chicago Daily News", Red Streak Edition, which is as follows:

"Hoodlum Firm Has Garbage Pickup Contract with Jewish Federation Here"

"By JACK WILLNER

"A new hoodlum scavenger service that drove its trucks through union picket lines when another scavenger wouldn't, won a contract with the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago.

"L & M Disposal Co. is now serving seven institutions that receive support from the federation, including Michael Reese and Mount Sinai hospitals.

"BERNARD BERNBERG, federation purchasing agent, said the federation's central purchasing office turned to L & M last spring during a labor dispute at the Park View Home for the Aged, 1401 N. California.

"The former scavenger refused to cross picket lines thrown up by Local 4, Building Service Employees International Union, he said.

"BERNBERG said he obtained an order from the Board of Health directing that the garbage be removed, but the former scavenger still would not cross picket lines.

"One of the federation's directors then suggested calling L & M, BERNBERG recalled.

"He said he talked to BERNARD LIEBLING, 54, a former downtown Chicago restaurant operator and one of two men who signed a lease for the firm's office space at 211 N. La Salle.

"LIEBLING told me, 'We'll go in (cross picket lines),' BERNBERG said. " 'Believe it or not, they pulled right in almost then and there.

" 'We felt we owed them (L & M) a favor because of what they had done for us, " ' , BERNBERG added. The one-year contract to serve the seven institutions was the result, he said.

"BERNBERG said the federation is saving " 'thousands of dollars ' ' a year under the contract. " ' I think they (L & M) have done the city a service, ' " , he added.

"Meanwhile License Court Judge HARRY A. ISEBERG continued for the fourth time a hearing on a motion to vacate a $420 fine against L & M. He set the new hearing for Monday, Nov. 18.

"Crime syndicate bookmaker GEORGE (The Greek) BRAVOS, 48, is L & M's star salesman, and has been signing up customers on the Near North Side.

"The police intelligence unit is closely watching the operations of the new firm, which is offering customers rates from 25 to 50 per cent below those competitors.

"The other signer of the firm's office lease was WILLIAM MC GUIRE, 40, of 1419 W. Garfield Blvd., a former Chicago policeman.

"In addition to the two hospitals and Park View, the other four agencies being served by L & M are Winfield Tuberculosis Service, 508 E. 29th St.; Drexel Home Inc., 6140 S. Drexel; Resthaven Rehabilitation Center, 1409 S. California, and the Orthodox Jewish Home for the Aged, 1648 S. Albany."

CG 92-1297

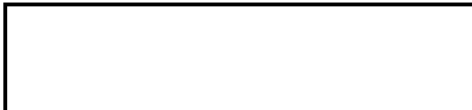

C. DAVID YARAS

CG T-1 advised on December 13, 1963, that DAVID YARAS, a hoodlum who spends most of his time in Miami, Florida and who is associated with A-1 Industrial Uniform Company which is operated by his son and the BRAVOS brothers, appeared in Chicago on December 12, 1963. YARAS spent sometime at the H & H Restaurant in the Chicago Loop, which is a hangout for numerous Chicago area hoodlums. CG T-1 advised that YARAS was scheduled to leave for Florida on December 14, 1963.

II. PAST CONTACTS OF A-1 INDUSTRIAL UNIFORM COMPANY

Investigation has determined that contacts were made during 1963, with the following companies:

Our Flowers Florist Shop
Wauconda, Illinois

The Flower Car
Harvard, Illinois

Fox Lake Plant,
Chain of Lakes
Ready-Mixed Concrete Company

In addition, contacts were made with individuals having telephone numbers [redacted] in Mc Henry, Illinois and [redacted] and [redacted] in Antioch, Illinois.

CG 92-1297

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]

On January 30, 1964, Chief of Police JOHN KUESTER, Wauconda, Illinois, advised that Our Flowers Floral Shop, located in the shopping plaza at Route 176, is [redacted] of a very prominent and long time Wauconda family. None has ever been involved in anything of a gambling nature and the brother of [redacted] is on the village board.

On January 30, 1964, [redacted] advised he operated a retail florist shop at this address. He has no idea of the identity of subjects. He has never bet on horse races or other events and knows of no employee, past or present, who has. He said he has no idea why they would be in contact with his shop unless it was with regard to flowers.

On January 30, 1964, Chief of Police JOHN MATIJEVICH, North Chicago, Illinois, advised that [redacted] a tavern at 1119 10th Street. [redacted] long time local bookie, used this tavern as a headquarters until October, 1963, when they raided the tavern and arrested [redacted] and [redacted]. Both were uncooperative.

Chief MATIJEVICH advised [redacted] is a Negro bookie whose present whereabouts is unknown; that he has been out of business in North Chicago for many months.

On February 3, 1964, [redacted] advised that she and her husband formerly operated the Flower Car, Floral shop at Harvard, Illinois, and still operate a wholesale hot house. She said neither she nor her husband bet on horses and do not know any of subjects. The only thing she can suggest is that they used to lease a commercial mop which they got and was serviced by some place in Chicago which had "industrial" in its name.

On January 31, 1964, [redacted] Fox Lake Plant, Chain of Lakes Ready-Mix Co., advised as follows:

This company is a subsidiary of the Evanston Fuel and Material Company. They have pits and or Ready Mix concrete establishments here as well as south of Fox Lake, Libertyville, and Volo, Illinois. He does not know subject; however, would suggest the following:

The Evanston Fuel and Material Company, Evanston, Illinois, has been [redacted] family of Evanston for many years. On the death of the father, son [redacted] assumed control. He spent most of his time and apparently all of his money betting on horses and apparently did so until about six months ago. At this time son [redacted] took control of the operation and is believed to have [redacted] on an allowance so he cannot bet away all he has. [redacted] works at the pit of Ready Mix Company on Route 134, at Route 12, south of Fox Lake, but has spent time at the other pits and has received phone calls which he, [redacted] considers unusual in that the caller does not identify himself. [redacted] resides in the family house at Long Lake, west of Round Lake, Illinois.

Chief of Police RICHARD LEMLER, Mc Henry, advised 385-3536 is listed to Ready Mix, Volo, Illinois.

On December 27, 1963, Sheriff [redacted] Lake County, Waukegan, Illinois, advised that Antioch 395-1121 was listed until July 3, 1963, to [redacted]

It is noted that [redacted] is a life-time bookie.

CG 92-1297

Sheriff [ ] advised 395-2201 is listed to JOHN WEISS, proprietor of Sequoit Harbor, Channel Lake, R. R., Antioch. He said WEISS has retired from slot machine operations for many years, but may well be a bettor or handle some bets for friends. WEISS is close to [ ] [redacted] of the Jet Car Wash, 55th Street and Cicero Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, advised that he had used the towel service of A-1 Industrial Laundries for a period of approximately two years.

[redacted] stated that three weeks ago his manager entered an agreement with the driver of an A-1 Industrial Service truck for the rentals of uniforms for gasoline attendants at this establishment. [redacted] stated that A-1 was slow in furnishing the uniforms and that a weekly billing was started immediately for the use of the uniforms before any had, in fact, been delivered. As a result of the delay, [redacted] called GEORGE BRAVOS of A-1 Industrial Service and told him to pick up the uniforms and to discontinue the towel service. Subsequently, GEORGE BRAVOS called [redacted] regarding the bill for use of the gasoline attendants uniforms and mentioned past due payments for A-1 Towel Service and indicated that [redacted] was immediately responsible for the full payment of all these bills.

[redacted] stated that there was a balance owed A-1 Industrial for coveralls which he, [redacted] had agreed to pay for a year and a half ago. These coveralls were used in the car wash operation. [redacted] stated that no effort had been made on the part of A-1 to collect the prior bill for the coveralls and that BRAVOS was now insisting on full payment for everything, including the prior sale of the coveralls, which had never been delinquent, and a payment for gas attendants uniforms and service which had never been rendered.

[redacted] stated that he expected to have a meeting with GEORGE BRAVOS in an attempt to iron out these difficulties and if he experienced any pressure for the payment of services not rendered, he would immediately notify the Chicago Office of the FBI.

Informant advised that NICHOLAS and GEORGE BRAVOS show employment at the Old Brown Laundry, but it is merely a "front" to cover their income from a bookmaking operation; the BRAVOS brothers and DAVID YARAS own the Old Brown Laundry. Informant advised in March, 1964, that A-1 Industrial Uniform Laundry is making $15,000 a week and is worth over one half million dollars. Informant advised that the BRAVOS brothers are attempting to sell A-1 and want to get out of the business. Past legal and illegal activities of NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS and DAVID YARAS set forth.

CG 92-1297

DETAILS:

I. OPERATIONS

CG T-1 advised in February, 1964, that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS show employment by Old Brown Laundry which they operate, but same is merely a "front" in order to cover their income from a bookmaking operation which is headquartered in a pool room at the corner of Chicago and Western Avenues. CG T-1 further advised that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS are active in "juice" operations.

On April 24, 1964, CG T-1 advised that Local 46 of the Laundry Workers Union cooperates with the BRAVOS brothers at the Old Brown Laundry, in an agreement that the union will not attempt to organize any of their employees. CG T-1 advised that the Old Brown Laundry is owned by the BRAVOS brothers and DAVID YARAS, a Miami hoodlum whose late brother whose name is not known to CG T-1, was formerly the boss of a criminal organization in Dallas, Texas.

CG T-2 advised on March 3, 1964, that A-1 Industrial Laundry is making $15,000 a week on its stops and is worth over one half million dollars. CG T-2 advised that attempts are being made to sell the company because the BRAVOS brothers want to get out of the business and intend to get out whether the company is sold or not.

CG T-2 stated that the BRAVOS brothers handle the linen part of the business and the industrial uniform part is handled by someone else, possibly DAVID YARAS. CG T-2 stated that a number of customers are not satisfied with the linen or uniform service of A-1, but won't quit because they are afraid of the BRAVOS brothers and YARAS.

CG 92-1297

CG T-2 also advised that A-1 recent began supplying linen and uniform service to the Imperial Inn, a large account and this account was forced by one of the stockholders of the Imperial Inn who is a partner in A-1.

CG T-2 advised on March 5, 1964 that A-1 continues to take stops from other companies including one at Mac's (phonetic) Grill, Irving Park Road and Harlem. This grill has slot machines and knowing this they were forced to take the services of A-1. CG T-2 also advised that recently A-1 had three individuals going from door to door on Milwaukee near North Avenue soliciting business. If a certain businessman said no to their offer, they left stating he "better think it over" and these three individuals appeared to be "musclemen".

CG T-2 also advised that A-1 is attempting to sell their business with a possible buyer being Industrial Garment, a division of Workwear, Inc., a Cleveland company. Another possible buyer is one [redacted] (phonetic) or [redacted] (Phonetic) of Detroit who has been trying to get into Chicago for some time.

CG T-2 advised on March 13, 1964 that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS are now running the entire operation at A-1 and they are obtaining new stops at the rate of several a week. CG T-2 stated that they are assisted in getting new stops by some of the drivers for Mary Ann Bakery. [redacted] of Mary Ann Bakery, [redacted] has two sons, [redacted] and [redacted] who run the bakery and pressure has been placed on some of the bakery stops to use the services of A-1.

CG 92-1297

CG T-2 advised that the supervisor of drivers, at Mary Ann Bakery is [redacted] (phonetic), formerly a front man for L&M Scavenger and who allegedly works for Chicago hoodlum [redacted] as a "juice man". CG T-2 advised that a number of drivers (there are 70 drivers for Mary Ann Bakery) are on "juice" to [redacted]

CG T-2 advised on March 18, 1964, that recently [redacted] had angry words with one of the BRAVOS brothers because they had taken a stop from Central Overall Company. Central Overall is owned by one [redacted] whose daughter is married to [redacted] son.

On March 18, 1964, [redacted] [redacted] Air Terminal, Inc. advised that his company had used the uniform laundry service of Industrial Garment Service, Inc., since 1959. This company's sales representative was [redacted] [redacted] quit Industrial Garment Service and joined A-1 and A-1 recently became successful bidder on the Lockheed Air Terminal contract for uniform laundry which amounts to about $5,000 a year.

CG T-2 advised on March 25, 1964, that A-1 had acquired another stop, namely Jack's Snack Shop and was about to obtain same because [redacted] (LNU) had been on juice from horse betting and this was the pressure used to force him to take A-1 service.

CG T-2 advised on April 7, 1964, that A-1 has only a three year lease on the building from which they operate, yet they are spending a great amount of money in the business which is poor business procedure unless they are going to sell the business. CG T-2 also advised that he has learned that an unknown individual has on paper loaned A-1 $10,000 and he and others were given the money like the $10,000 in the first place which they deposited in a bank then drew out and "loaned" it back to A-1. This arrangement is used so that A-1 can show on the books where they are getting their working capital without revealing the actual source of their capital. CG T-2 does not know the actual source of their capital.

CG T-2 advised that the individual from Detroit who may be interested in buying A-1 is named [redacted] (phonetic) from Cadillac Overall Company in Detroit; he may have an interest in Mai-rite Garment Company of Detroit.

CG T-3 advised on April 23, 1964, that GEORGE BRAVOS anticipates selling A-1 in about three weeks for one and a half million dollars to another industrial laundry company. CG T-3 stated that A-1 has all of the business they can handle but are being dunned for money by local equipment and supply people.

CG T-3 stated that BRAVOS feels they have built up their accounts sufficiently to be able to sell the business for more than a million dollars. According to CG T-3, GEORGE BRAVOS complains bitterly about having to work at A-1 because it is the first time in his life that he had to work.

CG T-3 also advised that the same people who sold a laundry company for the BRAVOS brothers in Miami helped with the negotiations to sell A-1. CG T-3 stated that DAVID YARAS who owns part of A-1 has been in Chicago conducting business from the offices of A-1.

CG 92-1297

CG T-2 advised June 10, 1964, that an individual described to him as possibly DAVID YARAS attended the restaurant show in Chicago in mid May and while there was drumming up business for A-1. CG T-2 also advised that he has learned that the ownership of A-1 is split in the following manner:

[redacted] 25%
DAVID YARAS - 25%
NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS - 25%
Two unknown politicians of the 24th Ward - 12½% each

II. CONTACTS WITH SAM SCHUMER

On March 3, 1964, CG T-2 had furnished information that SAM SCHUMER of Detroit was a jobber for Hayes Uniform Company and sells to A-1.

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] on April 29, 1964:

Mr. SAM SCHUMER, Maid Rite Garment Manufacturing Company, 1025 Brush Street, Detroit, Michigan, with residence at 21901 Marlow, Oak Park, Michigan, telephone LI 7-7235, who is the President of this company, advised as follows:

He stated that his firm has been doing business with GEORGE BRAVOS and the A-1 Industrial Company of Chicago for the past two years; this business consisting of the sale of industrial type clothing such as coveralls, shirts, and trousers to A-1 Industrial. SCHUMER advised that he has had one, and possibly two, business contacts with GEORGE BRAVOS over the past two years and that the rest of the time these business contacts are done by Maid Rite sales personnel. SCHUMER said that he had no social contacts with GEORGE BRAVOS, had no knowledge of BRAVOS' gambling connections or criminal background although it was "rumored in the trade" that BRAVOS was engaged in gangster type activities. He recalled that this information became known to him and others in the trade through news articles appearing in the "Chicago Daily News" during 1963, and he recalled that he had received during this period an autostat copy of one article appearing in this paper relative to BRAVOS' activities. He reiterated that he had no personal knowledge of BRAVOS' illegal operations.

III. NICK AND GEORGE BRAVOS

CG T-3 advised on February 20, 1964, that EDDIE GATES recently died. GATES had operated a gambling game at the Commonwealth Hotel with LEONARD "NEEDLES" GIANOLA. CG T-3 stated that GATES was also a runner in a gambling operation of GEORGE BRAVOS who is now associated with A-1 Industrial Laundry. CG T-3 stated that GEORGE BRAVOS presently is conducting a book operation on Laramie Avenue in Chicago and it is run by an individual named "DIRGIE" for BRAVOS.

[redacted] Illinois Racing Police, advised in March, 1964, that while in Miami, Florida, recently, he learned that [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] had been recently frequenting Hialeah Race Track with one of the BRAVOS brothers. He noted that [redacted] was arrested by the Internal Revenue Service in Sportsman's Park, Chicago, for on-track booking without a stamp.

CG T-1 advised on March 12, 1964, that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS are lieutenants for [redacted] [redacted] well known Chicago hoodlum for whom they operate booking establishments.

CG 92-1297

CG T-1 advised that several years ago three men kidnaped NICK BRAVOS and held him for ransom for $50,000. [ ] attempted to learn the identities of the kidnapers but was unsuccessful. Later BRAVOS was released and [ ] did learn the identifies of the kidnapers and they were subsequently killed by an "outfit" killer.

CG T-4 advised on May 1, 1964, that several years ago NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS were attempting to put a scare into [ ] son of FRANK ESPOSITO, former head of the Hod Carriers Union. They placed ESPOSITO in a sewer with two other individuals to scare them and the incident was found out and appeared in the Chicago newspapers. CG T-4 advised he does not know the reason why the BRAVOS brothers were attempting to scare the three individuals.

CG T-2 advised on March 6, 1964, that the BRAVOS brothers are part of a "juice" operation of GUS ALEX, Chicago hoodlum who is a cousin of the BRAVOS brothers. CG T-2 stated that if things get too hot about "juice" in Chicago, NICK BRAVOS will probably be the scape goat of GUS ALEX's "juice operation."

IV. DAVID YARAS

CG T-3 advised on February 14, 1964, that on February 12, 1964, DAVID YARAS and "two tough looking individuals" met at the H&H Restaurant in the loop. CG T-3 advised that on February 14, 1964, YARAS met with [ ] of the H&H Restaurant at the Hyatt House in Skokie where YARAS gave [ ] a large sum of money.

CG 92-1297

CG T-3 advised on February 20, 1964, that DAVID YARAS, who operates A-1 Industrial Laundry with the BRAVOS brothers occasionally meets with a Chicago jewel thief at the H&H Restaurant.

DETAILS:

I. OPERATIONS OF A-1
INDUSTRIAL LAUNDRY

CG T-1 advised on June 23, 1964, that NICHOLAS BRAVOS must have some connection with C & B Meats because CHARLES NICOLETTI, who is connected with C & B Meats, during his soliciting of meat customers has been urging the taking of services from A-1 and in an opposite manner NICHOLAS BRAVOS, while soliciting for A-1 customers, urges the services of C & B Meats. CG T-1 further advised that [redacted] for A-1, who formerly worked for Supreme Laundry, is attempting to change jobs again because he does not like to be threatened. CG T-1 advised that [redacted] has stated that he was told by the management at A-1 that if he left and went with another company and then stole stops from A-1, he would have his legs broken.

CG T-2 advised on July 7, 1964, that the BRAVOS brothers are faced with the problem of antiquated machinery at A-1 which is badly in need of repair. CG T-2 advised that the BRAVOS brothers are considering a $500,000 loan. In addition, CG T-2 believes it is possible that the BRAVOS brothers intend to blow up the laundry, collect the insurance, and with the loan they obtain build a new laundry.

CG T-1 advised on July 8, 1964, that the BRAVOS brothers have a loan racket going in connection with their A-1 stops. According to CG T-1, a customer is loaned any amount of money he desires to borrow at an interest rate of 10% per week until it is paid. The drivers for A-1 who collect the normal A-1 Laundry Service payments also collect the principal and interest on these loans and that same is shown on the bill in separate amounts.

CG T-1 advised on July 14, 1964, that a former employee of A-1, one [redacted] had stated that she quit A-1 because she did not like to work for "hoodlums."

CG 92-1297

[redacted]
[redacted] was interviewed at her place of employment, the Pear Valley Egg Company, 912 West Randolph, on September 12, 1964. She furnished the following information:

[redacted] advised that she comes from a family which has spent most of their lives in the linen laundry business, and that she and her brother formerly owned Rex Linen in Chicago. She advised that several years ago the family sold Rex Linen to Mickey's Linen Company, now operated by [redacted]. Thereafter, she worked for Mickey's Linen Company until late 1963, when she left to take an extended vacation in Europe. On her return in late 1963, she learned that the A-1 Industrial Laundry, which was a new company, had an opening for an experienced person to handle the billing of their accounts and had offered an attractive salary. She quit the position and worked for A-1 for about six months until April of 1964. During this time she handled all of the billing for A-1 and was relatively pleased with her employment. The commuting from her home in Bellwood became increasingly difficult because of her husband's change in working hours and for this reason she left the employment of A-1 and now works close to the Loop where commuting is no problem.

[redacted] advised that her bosses at A-1 were NICHOLAS and GEORGE BRAVOS and that a daughter of NICHOLAS BRAVOS named [redacted] handled the account work for A-1. [redacted] stated that all of the industrial garment business handled by A-1 is a separate section not connected with the linen section, and she never learned anything about the operations of the garment section. Regarding the linen section, she handled only the billing and was confined to a small office with limited access or vision to persons entering and leaving the laundry. She stated she is, therefore, not aware of visits by anyone in particular but knew that there was a great amount of visiting and a great number of salesmen and other people in and out of the laundry each day. [redacted] stated that she has heard the name DAVID YARAS and believes she saw him at the laundry on one occasion although she has no knowledge that he is in any way connected with management of A-1.

CG 92-1297

[redacted] advised that during her employment she was treated with great respect by all persons connected with A-1 and never had any reason to complain nor did she ever notice anything which was in any way illegal. Regarding the acquisition of new orders by A-1, [redacted] advised she has no knowledge of the manner in which these orders were obtained nor can she comment on the salesmen who obtained them because she knew none of their identities. [redacted] advised that she heard no information about the progress being made by A-1 or information that they were intending to sell their company, but stated that they did do especially well in obtaining numerous new orders in a very short time. She also advised that to her knowledge there were no hidden owners of A-1 and she always believed that the BRAVOS brothers were the owners.

CG T-1 advised on July 27, 1964, that A-1 has now obtained the linen business from several large restaurants in Chicago, and is also servicing the Millionaires Club, all of which are good accounts. On August 10, 1964, CG T-1 advised that he had learned that A-1 had purchased a new laundry believed to be on the south side of Chicago. CG T-1 advised he believes the purchase was handled with proper bank financing and the new laundry has ordered ten new trucks.

II. NICHOLAS and GEORGE BRAVOS

CG T-3 advised in early July, 1964, that NICHOLAS BRAVOS sells most of the coal used by the Chicago Sanitary District and that he obtains same from Roth-Adams Fuel Company, where he is on the payroll for $25,000 per year as an expeditor. CG T-3 advised that he believed that the Sanitary District had sometime in the past considered suing the Bern Electric Company for some reason unknown to CG T-3, but because of pressure exerted by NICHOLAS BRAVOS, this action was not taken.

CG 92-1297

CG T-4 advised in late July, 1964, that he recently observed GEORGE BRAVOS in the company of WILLIE MESSINA and JOE LOMBARDI at the Starlite Club, located at Elmwood Park, Illinois. CG T-4 advised that this is the location used by [redacted] as headquarters for his "juice" collection activities and JOE LOMBARDI is a collector and terrorist employed by [redacted] and JOE GAGLIANO.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date August 10, 1964

[ ] was interviewed on August 6, 1964, after having been advised that he need not make any statement to the FBI and that he had the right to contact counsel prior to making any statement.

[ ] advised as follows:

He stated that he is [ ] of the Cascade Linen Supply Company, located at 545 Northwest 9th Street, Miami, Florida. The Cascade Linen Supply Company is a branch of a nation wide linen supply company with headquarters in New York City. The name of the New York linen supply company is the General Linen Supply, New York.

[ ] said that in February, 1964, his company purchased the linen supply business from the Klene Linen Supply Company, 1117 5th Avenue, Miami Beach. He stated that all negotiations with Klene Linen Supply were made with one [ ]. In February, 1964, the negotiations were completed between Cascade and Klene for an agreed purchase price of approximately $70,000.00. No equipment was purchased in this transaction with the exception of linens which were in possession of Klene. The purchase price involved the taking over of Klene's Linen Supply customers in Miami, Miami Beach, and its environs. The price agreed upon was that which is normally transacted in the linen supply business of a ratio of "70 to 1". The 70 to 1 figure was interpreted by [ ] to mean that for every dollar of business transacted per week, by Klene, the Cascade Company agreed to pay $70.00 for the purchase. [ ] presented figures and accounts which reflected that his business brought in approximately $1,000.00 per week, and therefore, the $70,000.00 purchase price was agreed upon.

[ ] stated that [ ] was also interested during this transaction of selling all of Klene, that is, the industrial uniform business which Klene was also engaged in. [ ] stated that he knew that the industrial uniform service of Klene was not a "legitimate type" business, and that any purchase of this business by Cascade could only mean "swindle" of Cascade by [ ]. These recommendations were made [redacted] to his superiors in New York City and these recommendations were followed by his superiors and as a result only the linen supply business of Klene was alternately purchased.

[redacted] admitted that a great many of the accounts of Klene which were purchased by Cascade had during the past year been taken from Cascade by the Klene Linen Supply, so that in effect they were merely purchasing back their own accounts.

[redacted] stated that the Klene Linen Supply Company had been in business only a short time and it was understood by the linen supply industry in Miami that actually the Klene Linen Supply Company was only in business in order to "harass" the legitimate linen supply dealers to the point whereby they would be bought out within a very short time, which is what occurred. [redacted] stated that the Cascade Company approached the Klene Linen Supply Company for this transaction, and prior to this, [redacted] did not approach Cascade with the prospect of a sale.

With regard to the possibility of DAVID YARAS being involved in the operation of the Klene Linen Supply, [redacted] stated that his only information in this regard would be hearsay. [redacted] said that he had learned that YARAS was in the uniform supply business in Chicago, headed by two Greek individuals and the name of this company in Chicago is the A-1 Uniform Rental and Supply Company. [redacted] learned that there was a possibility of the fact that YARAS was probably the man behind the scenes in the operation of the Klene Linen Supply Company.

With regard to possible "muscling" in tactics utilized by the Klene Linen Supply Company, [redacted] stated that he learned that [redacted] in contacting his future accounts, used "implied" threats and "implied muscle". [redacted] said for example, that after the purchase of the Klene Linen Supply Company by Cascade, one of the Cascade salesmen made contact with some of Klene's industrial uniform stores in order to attempt to gain this business. The following day, [redacted] was contacted telephonically by [redacted] and was advised that the salesman who had contacted his account in Miami Beach, the day before would wind up getting severely beaten if he did not cease and desist contacting Klene Industrial Uniform accounts.

Further information pertaining to the use of force by [redacted] according to [redacted] was the fact that during the negotiations for the purchase of Klene by Cascade, or shortly thereafter, a convention of linen supply dealers was held in Miami Beach at the Fontainebleau Hotel. [redacted] was contacted there by one [redacted] of the Dania-Riverside Laundry. [redacted] according to [redacted] is an associate of YARAS and [redacted] told [redacted] that if he did not stop interfering with the sales transaction between Cascade and Klene, the possibility existed that he would "wind up in the river." [redacted] said that he ignored these implied threats, and thus far no bodily harm has come to him.

[redacted] stated that it would be necessary for him to contact his superiors in New York City prior to releasing the exact figures and amounts of the sales transactions between the Klene Linen Supply Company and the Cascade Linen Supply Company.

[redacted] telephone number 945-0377, was interviewed by SAS RALPH R. HILL and FRANK J. SMITH in the offices of the Cascade Linen Supply Company, 545 NW 9th Street, Miami, Florida. [redacted] was advised that he need not make a statement to the interviewing agents prior to consultation with an attorney. [redacted] stated that he understands this and furnished the following information:

He worked for the Miami Laundry Company for approximately seven years prior to becoming employed with the Klene Linen Supply Company in Miami Beach, Florida. [redacted] said that he went with the Klene Linen Supply Company sometime during the latter part of 1963, after having been told by [redacted] that he, [redacted] would pay [redacted] commission in addition to his salary and other concessions which would prove his new position at Klene to be highly advantageous to him. After going with KLENE, [redacted] advised that he and [redacted] were the only two salesmen handling new accounts for the Klene Linen Supply Company. [redacted] said that in effect, [redacted] opened the majority of the new accounts, which were represented by men of his, [redacted] friends of Miami Beach.

During the transaction involving the sale of the Klene Linen Supply accounts to the Cascade Company, [redacted] promised [redacted] $5,000.00 which represented his commissions since going with the Klene Company. [redacted] has not carried out these promises, and to date, [redacted] has not received any money of the $5,000.00 promised him by [redacted] with the result that he has filed a law suit in Dade County Court in an attempt to receive his $5,000.00. This litigation has not yet come up for hearing, and [redacted] is represented in this matter by Miami attorney, [redacted]

[ ] stated that during his employment with the Klene Linen Supply Company, he had heard the name DAVE YARAS; however, he has not met this individual. [ ]

[ ] stated that he is not in possession of any information of a positive nature which would reflect the involvement, financially or otherwise, of DAVID YARAS with the Klene Linen Supply Company.

[ ] stated that during his association with [ ] which was strictly on a business level, he observed that [ ] spent the greater part of his time opening new accounts and servicing current accounts of the Klene Linen Supply Company.

[redacted] after having been satisfied as to the identity of the Agent as being with the FBI and advised that he need not make a statement, advised as follows:

He is [redacted] of the Klene Industrial Uniform Company, 1117 5th Street, Miami Beach, Florida.

Prior to March, 1964, his company was known as the Klene Linen Supply Company, however, this part of the business was sold in March to the Cascade Linen Supply Company. Part of the sales transaction was a Covenant agreement precluding him from engaging in the linen supply business for a specified length of time. If this Covenant is broken, that amount of money specified in the contract will not be paid by the purchaser.

[redacted] stated that although he is acquainted with DAVID YARAS and considers him as a friend, he, YARAS, is not connected with his Industrial Uniform Supply business in any manner. [redacted] stated that YARAS, while in Miami, is "retired" and spends the majority of his time at the Bayshore Municipal Golf Course, playing golf.

[redacted] advised that his only source of income at the present time is that which is derived from his Industrial Uniform business.

[redacted] added that he cared only to discuss the linen supply business with the interviewing Agent and would not discuss his personal dealings nor his knowledge of the affairs of DAVID YARAS.

Synopsis: FNU SCHUMER, Detroit, Michigan, reportedly purchased 2 laundries in Chicago, Illinois. According to informants, BRAVOS makes numerous promises in order to obtain new customers and this approach does not make use of "muscle". NICK BRAVOS observed to be quite familiar with Boston's Hamburger Joint, Grand and Chicago Avenues, Chicago, Illinois. Background and past history of BRAVOS brothers furnished by Chicago Crime Commission set forth.

- p -

CG 92-1297

DETAILS:

I. OPERATIONS OF A-1 INDUSTRIAL LAUNDRY

CG T-4 advised that an individual (FNU) SCHUMER from Maid-Rite Garment Company, Detroit, Michigan, has purchased two laundries on the south side of Chicago, one of which is the Chapman Laundry. According to CG T-4, A-1 Laundry has taken over the linen service for the airport parking lot, one of which is located at 300 Wabash.

In November, 1964, CG T-5 advised that GEORGE BRAVOS, while soliciting business for A-1, displayed the technique he has been using in order to obtain new business which did not involve the use of "muscle". According to CG T-5, BRAVOS tells the prospective customer of the progress made by A-1, namely that it is now doing $2,000,000.00 worth of business per year and has nine routes. CG T-5 said BRAVOS makes numerous promises of extra service, lower prices, and so forth, also that A-1 has now taken over the linen service at Dewey's Snack Shop in Melrose Park, Illinois.

CG T-3 advised having heard that [redacted] is now [redacted] of the Central Plant of the Great Lakes Linen Company, which is located on Elston Avenue, Chicago. According to CG T-3, [redacted] is a cousin of TONY ACCARDO, and the Great Lakes Linen Company has not lost any stops to A-1 Laundry in the last two years.

CG T-4 advised that [redacted] (phonetic), [redacted] of Little Joe's Restaurant, Lawrence Avenue, across from the Bankers Life Building, is related to GUS ALEX. [redacted] according to CG T-4 has been showing lots of money lately and is attempting to buy out his partner, an individual named [redacted] (phonetic) of Bankers Life, with whom they shared ownership of Mullins Food Products Company, 4026 Lake Street.

CG T-4 also advised having heard that [redacted] wants to buy the Wishing Well in the 3800 block of Elston

CG 92-1297

Street, Chicago. Also, [ ] in connection with [ ] [ ] Little Joe's, uses the service of Supreme Linen, which belongs to GUS ALEX.

In November, 1964, CG T-5 advised that the linen business in Chicago is somewhat controlled by GUS ALEX to this extent. (The following information somewhat substantiates the information furnished by CG T-4 above:)

Mungers Laundry is owned by JIMMY ALLEGRETTI, a brother of GUS; Supreme Laundry belong to GUS ALEX; and A-1 is managed by NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS, who are cousins of GUS ALEX.

II. NICHOLAS AND GEORGE BRAVOS

CG T-5 advised that there is more than one person who has loaned $10,000.00 each to the BRAVOS brothers when they started their operations in the A-1 Laundry, however, according to CG T-5 these were only paper loans to show a source of money.

CG T-2 advised in October, 1964 NICK BRAVOS overheard to remark that GUS ALEX is the owner of Functional Music located at Wacker and Michigan Avenue. Also, that ALEX and the late FRANK "STRONGIE" FERRARO had been partners in the ownership of the above company.

CG T-1 advised that NICHOLAS BRAVOS was observed at Boston's Hamburger Place, Grand and Chicago Avenues, and was observed to walk behind the counter as though familiar with the owner of the restaurant.

[redacted] Chicago Crime Commission, 79 West Monroe Street, Chicago, Illinois, made available the following information from their files pertaining to the BRAVOS brothers:

In a report of December 12, 1933 regarding indictment 71134 it is noted that NICHOLAS BRAVOS, 18, and two others were charged with robbery and there was a finding of guilty (sentenced one to life on December 19, 1933 for each defendant).

In a police report of November 17, 1955 NICK BRAVOS, 2059 North Newcastle, age 42, is described as an ex-convict, known hoodlum and racketeer. [redacted] and [redacted] are also known at this address, while the telephone at the place is in the name of [redacted] GEORGE BRAVOS, 715 North Pulaski, reported to the FBI that his brother NICK was missing since November 14, 1955. His hat was found in front of his house. The next day CHARLES CARR, true name CARL TORRACO, an ex-convict and friend of NICK BRAVOS, received a telephone call "We got NICK, don't go to the cops." CARR received other calls to get $75,000 and have it ready. On November 18, 1955 NICK was found available and he and GEORGE

BRAVOS and EARL TORRACO were taken to police headquarters for questioning. They denied any kidnapping. A writ was obtained by Attorney [redacted] and the trio was released.

In 1945 NICK BRAVOS operated the Better Burner Service, 717 North Pulaski. He had been employed as an oil burner repairman before going into business for himself. NICK BRAVOS had been barred from Arlington, Washington and Hawthorne race tracks as were CHARLES and SAM ENGLISH, JOSEPH MENDINO and [redacted]

In an "American" clip of January 9, 1956 it is stated that in November, 1955 NICK BRAVOS, 42, 2059 North Newcastle, dropped out of sight. His brother GEORGE went to the FBI stating there had been an anonymous demand by telephone for $75,000 ransom. NICK BRAVOS is a widely known, northwest side hoodlum and bookmaker with interests in syndicate wire rooms. Later NICK appeared but would not say anything of any kidnapping.

In an "American" clip of April 29, 1958 it is reported that NICK BRAVOS, 43, 2139 South Michigan Avenue, and another were discharged in court on charges of operating a wire room at the Santa Fe Hotel, 8 West Polk Street.

In a "Tribune" clip of August 8, 1961 it is reported that NICK BRAVOS and his brother GEORGE, described as a pair of former bookmakers, were now believed to be bankrolling burglars on the northwest side and that they were two of seven juice men under investigation as possibly being involved in a "murder for insurance" racket wherein persons indebted to juice operators were slain so that their insurance could be used to repay the loans.

In an "American" clip of May 10, 1962 it is indicated that NICK BRAVOS, 47, and his brother GEORGE, 47, were observed by the reporter at Sportsman's Park and that track officials sent orders to have them ejected. NICK BRAVOS served seven years in prison for armed robbery and came out in 1940. The "American" learned that thirty bookies were operating at the track and each was assessed $300.00 a week.

In a "Sun-Times" clip of May 25, 1963 it is stated that NICK BRAVOS, a crime syndicate mobster, was on the payroll of the company which collected more than $500,000 in "expeditors" fees on Sanitary District coal contracts totaling seven million dollars. BRAVOS, 50, was described as a syndicate gambling overlord, race track bookie and underworld loan shark who served a seven-year prison term for bank robbery. He was paid more than $35,000 from 1959 to 1962 by the Roth-Adam Fuel Company. In 1962 NICK and his brother GEORGE, 48, a syndicate gambling chief, wheeled around gambling dens in a black convertible with license plates issued to the Roth-Adam Fuel Company. Both brothers were associated with another syndicate hoodlum, DAVE YARAS, in the A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Inc., 1217 North Oakley.

In a "Sun-Times" clip of May 28, 1963 it is reported that NICK BRAVOS, 50, received $1,000 a month salary from the Roth-Adam Company, which company received huge expeditor's fees on more than seven million dollars worth of coal sold the Sanitary District from 1959 to 1963. CHARLES ENGLISH also had been observed driving a car registered to the firm. BRAVOS received $35,000 from the firm.

In a letter of September 18, 1963 information is that GEORGE and NICHOLAS BRAVOS, as well as other bookmaking groups at Hawthorne Race Track, were paying $1,000 a week protection.

In an "American" clip of February 28, 1964 it is noted that a "juice" operations victim stated that NICK BRAVOS and other hoodlums were his persecutors for failure to keep up on his payments.

BRAVOS brothers reportedly active in "juice" business, and are increasing their laundry business accounts. [REDACTED] observed numerous times at A-1 Industrial Laundry. Information concerning GEORGE BRAVOS auto registration set out.

CG 92-1297

DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised that GEORGE BRAVOS, one of the owners of the A-1 Industrial Uniform Company, along with DAVID YARAS, Chicago and Florida member of the criminal element is preparing the second floor above the Orchid Flower Shop at Chicago and Western Avenues for a large gambling operation. The address is the same as that of the flower shop operated years ago by ANTHONY "TOUGH TONY" CAPEZIO, deceased, a member of the CAPONE syndicate.

Observation during June and July, 1965, revealed some activity at the above location, but the extent of it could not be determined.

CG T-2 advised that GEORGE and NICK BRAVOS collect "juice" payments at the poolroom located next door to the Orchid Flower Shop on Western Avenue.

CG T-2 further advised that he had heard that NICK BRAVOS is back in the bookmaking business and has about a dozen bookmakers working for him at Sportsman's Park Race Track in Cicero, Illinois.

CG T-2 also said that [ ] a member of the Chicago criminal element, meets weekly with NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS concerning bookmaking activities.

CG T-3 advised that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS are active in the "juice racket" in the Logan Square area of Chicago. CG T-3 said that the BRAVOS brothers used to own a currency exchange at 23rd and Cicero but apparently are no longer active in it.

CG 92-1297

CG T-4 advised that he has heard that NICK andd GEORGE BRAVOS of the A-1 Industrial Laundry have increased their laundry route among Clark Street restaurant owners. The source advised that it was not ascertained for certain whether the BRAVOS brothers were using "muscle" in obtaining the new accounts but he would be surprised if the BRAVOS brothers were not using some form of "muscle".

CG T-4 further advised that the BRAVOS brothers attempt to get some of the restaurant owners "hooked on juice" if they can in conjunction with their laundry supply stops.

Several times during March, 1965, the following two autos were parked near the front of the A-1 Industrial Laundry, 1217 North Oakley and in the parking lot used by the A-1 Laundry directly across the street from the laundry building: Ohio license plate, 1964, 3098AD and New Jersey license plate FVL 608.

Subsequent investigation has reflected that the drivers of these two cars were in the area doing business independent of the BRAVOS brothers or the A-1 Laundry.

On several occasions from April, 1965, to July 14, 1965, [redacted] son of DAVID YARAS, was observed entering and departing the A-1 Industrial Laundry building at 1217 North Oakley, Chicago. On most of these occasions [redacted]

[redacted] was driving a 1965 white Pontiac Bonneville, sedan, bearing 1965 Illinois license plates RY 4120.

On July 13 and 14, 1965, [redacted] was observed at the A-1 Laundry driving a late model dark blue

CG 92-1297

Oldsmobile "98", sedan, bearing 1965 Florida license plates IW-82521. This car is registered to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] DAVID YARAS of Miami, Florida.

A white 1965 Pontiac sedan, bearing 1965 Illinois license plates KN 1213 was observed numerous times parked at the A-1 Laundry building.

The records of the Secretary of States Office, Springfield, Illinois, reflected that 1965 Illinois license KN 1213, was issued to GEORGE BRAVOS, 715 North Pulaski, Chicago, Illinois.

On July 9, 1965, [REDACTED] Driver's License Section, Secretary of States Office, Springfield, Illinois, advised that his records reflect drivers license number B612-3001-1006 was issued April 6, 1962, to GEORGE BRAVOS, 715 North Pulaski, Chicago, Illinois. The license expires March 4, 1966, and describes BRAVOS as follows:

Height	5'9"
Weight	220 pounds
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Brown
Date of Birth	March 4, 1911

Observation during May, June and July, 1965, in the vicinity of the A-1 Laundry or the BRAVOS residences failed to observe the BRAVOS brothers.

David Yaras: He Makes It A Habit of Beating the Rap

This is the second in a series of articles about criminals and their associates who found life in South Florida so enjoyable that they decided to settle down here.

By GENE MILLER
 Herald Staff Writer

In the jargon of the rap sheet, "GP" means an arrest for "general principles." It is no great distinction.

In the long ago of April, 1931, the "GP" went down beside the name of David Yaras, then just a tough kid from Chicago.

Yaras, establishing a habit, beat the rap. Since then, he has beaten the rap as a killer, robber, extortionist, thug—you name it.

Know Your Neighbor

David Yaras
... leads 'charmed' life

His accomplishments are well recognized in his old home town, which is tough. Since 1919, something like 97 gangland murders have remained unsolved. Yaras is one of the Florida men for the Chicago mob.

For general principles, the citizenry of Dade County might well pay a little attention to why he is here, his past, his reputation, and his charmed unpunished life.

Yaras, 32, resides in suburban respectability on Miami Beach at 4410 Adams Ave. He is curt, cold, a snarler.

191 NOV 1 1965

When he is not in Chicago, ~~he is often~~, he is easily taken as a shylock or "juice" at the Bay Shore Golf Club, willing to loan thousands at 10 per cent per month. He is also a big-bet golfer, sometimes taking gang Czar Jack over the links. He was abruptly moved to the beach in the late 40s as assassinations aroused the wrath of blase Chicagoans.

is a classic tale of sorts.

A mob contracted for the slaying of James Ragen, a nationwide wire service entrepreneur who ungraciously declined suggestions to his business fortunes.

When he knew he had trouble, he hired two bodyguards. But still, from a truck in broad daylight, a gun blast tore into his car.

Surprisingly, he lived, and he worked in shifts in his hotel room. Then, suddenly, he died. The autopsy revealed a complication: a hole in the stomach, unlined.

He, along with two others, was indicted for murder. Three witnesses testified him.

Conveniently for Yarass, however, one witness met a violent end; the other two lost their memory.

A hard-nosed policeman, Lt. William Drury, never gave up. Even after a suspension, which he called a corrupt political frame-up, he persisted.

On Sept. 24, 1950, as was his custom, Drury backed his car into his garage. Four shotgun blasts killed him instantly.

Since Davy became a Floridian, he has managed fairly well to keep his name out of newspaper type.

He regressed slightly in 1959 in a bizarre DeLido Island robbery of Marisol Alba, a Batista "spy" then known as Cuba's Mata Hari senorita.

She positively identified Yarass and Bennie Husick, a punk bookie, as the thugs who stole $4,890 in gems. In court two months later, she too changed her mind. She took the Fifth Amendment.

A grateful Husick, for a while ran a hole-in-the-wall linen supply for Yarass, which he unloaded for $80,000 plus recently. Hardly anyone, it appeared, could afford to refuse his service.

II. OPERATION OF THE A-1 INDUSTRIAL UNIFORMS, INCORPORATED, 1217 NORTH
OAKLEY, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

CG T-3 advised in October, 1965, that GEORGE BRAVOS president of the A-1 Laundry has been staying away from that location on Oakley because of his recent arrest and forthcoming trial based on his arrest by the Illinois Crime Commission. CG T-3 advised that DAVID YARAS has taken over the management of the A-1 Laundry through his son, LEONARD YARAS, and that LEONARD YARAS was recently married to a divorcee.

CG T-3 advised that [REDACTED] DAVID YARAS' other son, is still working at the Vending Corporation of America as a salesman and that this company has recently moved to a location at Fairfield and North Avenue, Chicago. CG T-3 advised that NICK BRAVOS has apparently no influence outwardly in the operation of the A-1 Laundry and that the brains behind the entire operation seems to be DAVID YARAS. YARAS has been spending a lot of time at the Laundry and occasionally goes back to his home at Miami, Florida, on the weekends.

CG T-4 advised in August, 1965, that GEORGE BRAVOS had been removed as president of the A-1 Laundry immediately after his arrest on August 17, 1965 on "juice charges" along with WILLIE MESSINO and others. After the arrest LEONARD YARAS was apparently made president of the company and that DAVID YARAS is the guiding hand at A-1 Laundry.

CG T-4 advised that LEONARD YARAS was married on August 24, 1965 in the Chicago area and that the wedding was a quiet family affair. Immediately after the wedding, LEONARD YARAS and his wife left for Los Angeles and Las Vegas for a couple of weeks. During September, October, and November, 1965, DAVID YARAS and LEONARD YARAS were observed numerous times entering and leaving A-1 Industrial Uniform, Incorporated.. DAVID YARAS was observed entering the A-1 Laundry on November 18, 1965.

On November 15, 1965, DAVID YARAS was observed leaving the A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated at 5:45 p.m. YARAS went directly to a meeting with GUS ALEX, LEONARD YARAS, and [redacted] in Pete Fish's Restaurant, 160 East Ontario Street, where the group was observed until 8:40 p.m.

On November 9, 1965, [redacted] Clerk, Corporation Section, Secretary of State's Office, Springfield, Illinois, advised that the annual report for A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated, has no amendments attached at the present time, and that GEORGE BRAVOS is still listed as president of the corporation. [redacted] advised that the annual report for 1966 will not be filed until approximately March 1, 1966, and that at that time it is possible that a change of officers will be reflected in the annual report.

On October 21, 1965, [redacted] Commissioner of Investigations, for Mayor DALEY, City of Chicago, advised that his Office has been looking into the possibility of revoking the license of the A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated, 1217 North Oakley because of the arrest and unfavorable newspaper publicity concerning GEORGE BRAVOS, president of that company. [redacted] advised that a check with the Chicago Police Department reflects that GEORGE BRAVOS does not have a felony conviction and consequently it would be difficult to revoke the license unless it was further convicted. [redacted] said that A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated operates under City License Number 22, and is renewed annually and it currently expires December 31, 1965. He said that NICHOLAS BRAVOS, who has a felony conviction, is not listed as an officer of the company, and consequently a revocation of the license could not be founded upon the conviction of NICK BRAVOS.

The FBI Identification Division furnished the Identification Record of GEORGE BRAVOS under FBI Number 336546F, on October 18, 1965. The record reflects an arrest of GEORGE BRAVOS by the Arlington Heights Police Department on August 8, 1959 and an arrest on August 17, 1965 on charges of conspiracy and kidnapping by the Chicago Police Department. There were no other arrests reflected on the record of the FBI Identification Division.

GEORGE BRAVOS

Character: ANTI-RACKETEERING

Synopsis:

Informants at Chicago report the BRAVOS brothers influential in "Greek Town" and are engaged in the "juice" business. A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Inc., reportedly grossing $1,500,000 yearly and A-1 salesmen are collecting "juice" from customers.

[REDACTED] advised he is friend of BRAVOS brothers. GEORGE BRAVOS observed during spot checks at Chicago. NICK BRAVOS not observed. Local trial of GEORGE BRAVOS set for 7/11/66 at Chicago.

CG 92-1297

DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised in March, 1966, that it had come to his attention that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS were paying little attention to the operation of A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated.

(It should be noted that DAVID YARAS and his son, LEONARD YARAS, have been reported to be active in the operation of A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated.)

CG T-1 advised that NICK BRAVOS reportedly owns Allison's Coffee Shop, Rand Road and Route 14, Des Plaines, Illinois, and that the small restaurant is run by a reported hillbilly, name unknown. The location is reportedly a gathering place on Sunday mornings, for a number of the Chicago criminal element.

CG T-1 further advised in March, 1966, that he had heard that the BRAVOS brothers, NICK and GEORGE, put up a considerable amount of the principal money for the "juice" operation of JASPER CAMPISE. This gives the BRAVOS brothers an outlet for "juice" money without being directly involved in the collection of it.

CG T-2 advised in March, 1966, that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS maintain influence over the area known as "Greek Town", around Halsted and Van Buren Street. It has been reported that the BRAVOS brothers, [redacted] and [redacted] have an interest in the Grecian Gardens Restaurant and Night Club.

CG T-2 advised that in order to have entertainment at a night club in the area, a $500 fee must be paid to the BRAVOS group who control the entertainment through unions and politics.

CG T-2 further advised in April, 1966, that the BRAVOS brothers, [redacted] and [redacted] are influential in "Greek Town" and that [redacted] who controls the laundry workers union, handles any labor problems that may arise.

CG T-3 advised in April, 1966, that he had heard that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS were involved in gambling prior to the summer of 1965. CG T-3 said he has no knowledge if the BRAVOS brothers are still so involved.

CG 92-1297

CG T-4 advised in May, 1966, that he has learned that A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated, 1217 North Oakley, Chicago, and operated by the BRAVOS brothers, DAVE YARAS and LEONARD YARAS are grossing approximately $1,500,000 in services and sales annually. CG T-4 said that he had learned that the salesmen for A-1 laundry conduct a "juice" collection operation in connection with their A-1 customer accounts.

CG T-4 advised that he had heard that the A-1 customers had "juice" payments included on the A-1 service bills.

CG T-4 further advised that although the BRAVOS brothers are careful of direct intimidation of potential customers, there is implied intimidation involved.

On May 23, 1966, [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that he is the owner of the Golden Horns Steak House in Northlake, Illinois.

[redacted] advised his suppliers are Mid-City Dairy, Mary Ann Baking Company and A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated. NIKOLAS said he is a good friend of NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS.

During spot checks in April, May and June, 1966, GEORGE BRAVOS was observed at 715 North Pulaski, his residence, and at Service Laundry Company, 3334 West Lake, Chicago. NICK BRAVOS was not observed at his residence at 8831 Kathy Lane, Des Plaines, Illinois.

On June 20, 1966, Lieutenant [redacted] Chicago Police Department, but presently assigned to Illinois Crime Commission, 300 West Washington, Chicago, advised the local kidnapping and conspiracy trial of GEORGE BRAVOS, et al, is to be heard before Judge DAHL on July 11, 1966.

Informants at Chicago advise NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS are staying away from A-1 Laundry due to adverse publicity in local "juice" trial. GEORGE BRAVOS reported to be a sick man. The BRAVOS brothers reportedly large scale operators in "juice" and supply money to the Chicago "outfit" juicemen. DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised in February, 1967, that NICK and GEORGE BRAVOS of A-1 Industrial Laundry, 1217 North Oakley, Chicago, are staying away from the laundry due to the adverse publicity concerning the "juice" trail of GEORGE BRAVOS, WILLIE MESSINO, ET AL. LEONARD YARAS, the son of DAVID YARAS of Miami, is president of A-1 Laundry and is there on almost a daily basis running the company.

CG T-1 further advised in March, 1967, that GEORGE BRAVOS has not been at the A-1 Laundry for some time but stays near his residence at 715 North Pulaski Road, Chicago.

CG T-2 advised in February, 1967, he had heard that GEORGE BRAVOS, WILLIE MESSINO, and JOE LOMBARDI would get no help from the high ranking members of the Chicago criminal element concerning their "juice" trial. The informant said that nothing would be done to effect a "fix" in case the defendants receive stiff sentences. The informant said that members of the criminal element in Chicago are upset and displeased that MESSINO, BRAVOS and LOMBARDI beat up the [ ] brothers in order to extract "juice".

CG T-2 further advised in April, 1967, that he had heard that it is being said among members of the Chicago criminal element that GEORGE BRAVOS is a sick man. The essence of the discussions is that if BRAVOS is sentenced to a long term, he will never live through it and return from prison.

CG T-3 advised in March, 1967, that JASPER CAMPISE's son was married at one time to the daughter of NICK BRAVOS, but they are not divorced.

CG T-4 advised in March, 1967, that AL SARNO is now handling most of WILLIE MESSINO's "juice" accounts and is dealing directly with GEORGE and NICK BRAVOS. The BRAVOS brothers are reportedly large scale "juice" operators and furnish money to the Chicago "outfit" juicemen.

CG 92-1297

On April 25, 1967, [ ] Assistant States Attorney, Cook County, advised that on that date the following sentences were handed down by Cook County Circuit Judge WILLIAM SYLVESTER WHITE in the "juice" trial concerning the CHIAGOURIS brothers:

WILLIAM MESSINO - five counts

Title: NICHOLAS BRAVOS,
GEORGE BRAVOS

Character: ANTI-RACKETEERING

Synopsis: Informants at Chicago, advised GEORGE BRAVOS in "juice" business and local convicted to be appealed to State Supreme Court if necessary. Interviews at Chicago, reflect GEORGE and NICK BRAVOS no longer in control of A-1 Laundry. Records of Illinois Secretary of State, show BRAVOS brothers not officers or directors of A-1 Laundry. Interview set out with [REDACTED] who advised he was on "juice" to NICK BRAVOS.

- P -

DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised in December, 1967, that GEORGE BRAVOS was in the "juice" business in the early 1960's, and had loaned some large sums of money at that time. BRAVOS was a close associate of JOHN "JOHNNY the Bug" VARELLI and evidently VARELLI "steered" customers to BRAVOS.

CG T-2 advised in July, 1968, that GUS ALEX had instructed GEORGE BIEBER, the attorney, to handle the appeal of GEORGE BRAVOS, WILLIAM MESSINO, JOSEPH LOMBARDI and [REDACTED] and take the appeal all the way up to the Illinois Supreme Court if necessary. This concerned the conviction in local court in the extortion-kidnapping case of the [REDACTED] brothers.

On April 29, 1968, [REDACTED] Clerk, Illinois State Appellate Court of Cook County, District Number 1, Chicago, advised that WILLIAM MESSINO, GEORGE BRAVOS and JOSEPH LOMBARDI, currently out on bond awaiting appeal, were scheduled to file briefs on May 21, 1968. These would be answered by the State of Illinois, and it would probably be early fall, 1968, before the Appellate Division would rule on the appeals.

On January 24, 1968, LEONARD M. YARAS, President, A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated, 1217 North Oakley, advised that neither GEORGE BRAVOS, NICK BRAVOS or DAVID YARAS had any connection with A-1 Laundry. He said GEORGE BRAVOS relinquished all control in the company after his local conviction on kidnapping and extortion.

On February 23, 1968, [REDACTED] of A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated, advised that the BRAVOS brothers, GEORGE and NICK have not been connected with the laundry for over a year.

On February 26, 1968, [REDACTED] advised she is the daughter of GEORGE BRAVOS, who resides with her. She said A-1 Laundry is being run by LEONARD YARAS, and GEORGE and NICHOLAS BRAVOS have no control or interest in the laundry. She declined further discussion of the matter.

Records of the Illinois Secretary of State's Office show that an annual report was filed February 9, 1968, for A-1 Industrial Uniforms, Incorporated, 1221 Oakley Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, and reflects the following officers:

LEONARD YARAS, President, Treasurer, Director

CG 92-1297

[redacted]

[redacted]

On July 25, 1968, [redacted] who resides at [redacted] advised he is [redacted] of the Pixie Beauty Shoppe, 8550 Golf Road, Des Plaines, Illinois. He said he became indebted to NICHOLAS BRAVOS in the amount of $2,000.00, in approximately 1965. He eventually was indebted to NICHOLAS BRAVOS for the amount of $4,000.00, and was making large "juice" payments.

[redacted] said he finally went to the Chicago Police Department in 1967, and was at that time indebted to several "juice" collectors beside BRAVOS. He said the "juice" men never bothered him again after he went to the police and he has never paid back $10,000.00 total in "juice" still outstanding.

[redacted] said that [redacted] a hairdresser, was a main "juice" collector for NICHOLAS BRAVOS. [redacted] said he is not presently bothered by anyone at the present concerning "juice" and would be reluctant to testify in the future concerning this type of activity.

GEORGE BRAVOS continues to reside at 715 North Pulaski, Chicago, Illinois, with his daughter [REDACTED]

NICHOLAS BRAVOS continues to reside at 8831 Kathy Lane, Des Plaines, Illinois.

Associates

GEORGE BRAVOS has been observed frequently during November (beginning 11/20/68) and December, 1968, by FBI Agents in the company of JOE GAGLIANO, WILLIE MESSINO, and CHRIS CARDI at Mary Ann's Pancake Restaurant, 3756 West Chicago, Avenue. ILL

CG T-1 advised on December 10, 1968 that he learned during the evening of December 9, 1968, that the state will try to "pull the bond" on WILLIAM J. MESSINO, GEORGE BRAVOS and JOSEPH LOMBARDI, all of whom were convicted in state court in connection with the kidnaping and aggravated assault perpetrated on the [REDACTED] brothers in 1967. MESSINO was sentenced to 30 years in connection with this matter; and the entire case has been on appeal since the conviction; however, the defense has been almost contemptuous of court instructions regarding this appeal. A hearing was held on December 9, 1968, regarding the appeal and as a result of problems which arose, it was stated that the state would attempt to pull the bond on these people and have them immediately incarcerated on December 10, 1968.

CG T-2 advised in December 1968, that NICK BRAVOS is dying of throat cancer and his demise could come at anytime.

CG 92-1297

On December 16, 1968, [redacted] Appeals Section, States Attorney's Office, Chicago, Illinois, advised that the defense council representing MESSINO, BRAVOS, and LOMBARDI had received another continuance which would afford them additional time to file appeal briefs. A motion by the state to revoke the appeal bonds on all subjects in this matter was revoked.

On January 15, 1969, [redacted] was recontacted but advised that he could furnish no further information regarding the local "juice" matter involving GEORGE BRAVOS.

Activities

[redacted] Appeals Sections, States Attorney's Office, Chicago, Illinois, was contacted on November 26, 1969.
